

The Professional Standards were developed in 2014 by the Education and Training Foundation. They were developed in consultation with practitioners and providers from across the sector, and define common expectations that:

- Teachers and trainers are reflective and enquiring practitioners who think critically about their own educational assumptions, values and practices.
- They draw on relevant research as part of evidence-based practice.
- They act with honesty and integrity to maintain high standards of ethics and professional behaviour in support of learners and their expectations.

- Teachers and trainers are subject and/or vocational specialists as well as experts in teaching and learning.
- They are committed to maintaining and developing their expertise in both aspects of their role to ensure the best outcomes for their learners.
- The purpose of the Standards is to support teachers and trainers to maintain and improve standards of teaching and learning, and outcomes for learners.

The Professional Standards are set across three sections each of equal importance: each links to and supports the other sections.

- 18

Apply appropriate and fair methods of assessment and provide constructive and timely feedback to support progression and achievement.
- 19

Maintain and update your teaching and training expertise and vocational skills through collaboration with employers.
- 20

Contribute to organisational development and quality improvement through collaboration with others.

THE 2014 PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS:

- Set out clear expectations of effective practice in Education and Training.
- Enable teachers and trainers to identify areas for their own professional development.
- Support initial teacher education.
- Provide a national reference point that organisations can use to support the development of their staff.

The corresponding guidance, which was developed with the support of practitioners, aims to help teachers and trainers use the standards and apply them to the context in which they work.
